

Little Red Riding Hood

The wolf's perspective

I cannot believe those people are making me write a fairy tale for my punishment. I think it was bad enough getting my tail shot right off! Eating people is just what us wolves do! Excaaaaauuse me if that is a crime! Anyway, you are probably wondering what I mean.

It all started when I was slightly hungry. I couldn't find any humans to guzzle inside the forest, so I went out of the forest and searched. I could only see a little hut, but I decided to search anyway. It was my lucky day I mean, lucky few hours. Red riding hood's Grandma was there ready to be eaten and by this time I was absolutely starving, and my belly was making weird noises. But red riding hood's grandma did not even notice. She must be blind and deaf!!!

'an easy fight for food' I thought. But I heard the door opening (red riding hood) and there was only time to shut red riding hood's grandma into the cupboard and cover her mouth to keep her from screaming!!! I simply slid into the bed and replaced her. I knew I was dead unless the person at the door had an IQ of a doorknob itself, stupidly not recognising that I wasn't the old lady in her bed. But guess what, apparently, she did have an IQ of a doorknob, so I decided to guzzle her down too! But it is so annoying that I must do all the fairy tale stuff before I can. It is the rules. I actually do not know why I follow them because clearly, I am not one for following rules. So red riding hood said, 'what big ears you have!' and I repeated 'all the better to hear you with' like I should. Then she says, 'what big eyes you have grandma' and I say all the better to see you with, and I was really excited to get to the 'stuff your mouth part but that was when I realised, I had made a mistake. Red riding hood's grandma was deaf and also couldn't see...!!!! I got shot right in the tail by red riding hood as she smirked, and I realised she knew all along. Unsurprisingly, she did not have the IQ of a doorknob!!! My tail snapped right off, and I was petrified!! That is when I got punished and ended up writing this stupid story...
